Coroner Will Conduct Probe Into the Death Of Theodore M. Smith

Rosendale Man Died of Fractured Skull But How Injury Was Received Has Not Been Definitely Decided.

FOUND IN A CAR

Brought to Benedictine Hospital But Failed to Gain Consciousness and Died.

Mystery surrounds the cause of death of Theodore M. Smith, 65, of Rosendale, who died Wednesday morning at the Benedictine Hospital where he had been admitted the previous evening. Mr. Smith died from a fracture of the skull but how the injury was received has not been definitely decided although it is believed he fell from a porch in the village and was injured. An investigation will be conducted by Coroner Lester DuBois of New Paltz. Today Mr. DuBois was holding an inquest in Kingston and was unable to continue the investigation into the Smith death.

An autopsy performed disclosed that Mr. Smith died from a fracture of the skull. The autopsy was performed by Dr. O'Connor and Dr. Taylor.

Early Tuesday evening Mr. Smith was brought to the hospital and later when his condition became alarming Coroner DuBois was notified and investigation was started under the direction of District Attorney Murray.

Up to the present time it has not been definitely determined how the injuries were sustained but it was reported he had fallen on a porch and sustained the injuries. However due to the circumstances and the fact that there are other stories told of how the injury was suffered an investigation will be made. Smith was found in a car Tuesday morning and brought to the hospital. The owner of the car stated that Smith had evidently been put in his car some Monday evening or early Tuesday morning. When he was found Dr. Rymph of Bloomington was called and had the man removed to the Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. DuBois said today that he had not yet learned where the car was parked when the injured man was found or who the owner of the car was. It is reported the injuries were suffered somewhere in the vicinity of the Maples. Mr. Smith failed to gain consciousness.

Whether the injuries were suffered purely accidental or whether they were inflicted by another person will be determined by examination of witnesses.

Mr. Smith came to this country from Germany as a boy and had lived for many years in Rosendale where he was employed as a mechanic. Surviving are two sons, Charles of New York and Harold of Madison, N. J.; one daughter, Mrs. Maurice Flynn of Rosendale; one brother, Joseph Smith of West New York, N. J.; and one sister, Mrs. John Gellner of this city. He was a member of the Rosendale Democratic Club, a member of the Rosendale Fire Department and a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Peter's church, Rosendale. Members of the Holy Name Society will meet at the old residence Friday evening at 8 o'clock to recite the Rosary.

The funeral will be held from the home on John street, Rosendale, Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock and from St. Peter's church, Rosendale, where a high Mass of Requiem will be offered. Interment will be in St. Peter's cemetery, Rosendale.

PHOENIX RESIDENT FOUND DEAD IN CAR

The body of William Joseph Moore, 47, was found dead in his Ford car in the garage at his home in Phoenix this morning by his wife and a neighbor, William Smith. Deputy Sheriff Herbert Segelken was notified and got in touch with State Troopers Dunn and Nolan, who notified the coroner, and the body was turned over to the Gormley funeral parlor.

Death was due to inhaling the fumes of the gas from the engine. In the dead man's pocket Deputy Sheriff Segelken found a note written by Moore in which it stated that he could no longer carry on owing to financial conditions and that he intended to end his life.

Mr. Moore is a former resident of Buffalo.

Farm Census Completed Shows Increase in Ulster

For the past three months a clerical force under the direction of John L. Schoonmaker has been making a census of the farms in Ulster county. Headquarters were established in a room on the third floor of the city hall. The work of taking the census was completed on Wednesday afternoon and today the office force was busy getting ready to vacate the headquarters in the city hall.

The number of farms in Ulster county shown by an inventory as of January 1, 1935, was 3,814, as compared with 3,690 as of April 1, 1930, showing a slight increase in the number of farms in the county.

The 1935 figure is preliminary and subject to correction, according to Mr. Schoonmaker, supervisor of the census.

455 State Laws in 1935 Total Given Approval As Lehman Signs More

Albany, N. Y., April 25 (AP)—New York state's 1935 laws jumped to 455 today as Governor Herbert H. Lehman approved 18 more bills, including his program measure increasing the minimum age of children going from school into industry from 14 to 16 years.

It becomes effective September 1, 1936, giving school systems ample time to meet the new requirements.

"This marks a great step forward in regulating the employment of children and enlarging their opportunity for education," the governor said.

The measure was opposed by the board of Regents and the state mayor-a-conference, both groups contending it would increase education costs by keeping more children in school.

The governor called a 24-hour halt to his bill consideration task at noon, leaving for New York city to attend the wedding tonight of Miss Pauline Bearwald and Myron S. Falk Jr., whose parents are among his oldest and closest friends." He will return tomorrow.

Other new laws signed before he left will empower supervisors, except in a county constituting a general health district, to employ dentists as well as health nurses.

Authorize the state public works superintendent to plant trees along state and county highways.

Make it a misdemeanor for any manufacturer to sell drugs or medicine unless manufactured or compounded under the personal supervision of a licensed pharmacist or chemist, or for any person to sell such products unless containing on the label the name and address of the manufacturer.

The chief executive vetoed a bill designed to permit allowances by local child welfare boards to widowed mothers with one or more children between 16 and 18 years of age, where circumstances are such that relief is necessary.

"It seems that this measure was proposed to meet the emergency need arising from the existing unemployment situation," he declared. "There is already sufficient provision made in the public welfare law and through the temporary relief administration to provide for the care of boys and girls from 16 to 18 years."

He also vetoed bills to:

Empower the commissioner of motor vehicles to restore a license and registration in any case in which the judgment creditor consents.

Make a sum in excess of $100 the minimum amount of a judgment which may be the basis for suspending license and registration certificate.

Vatican City, April 25 (AP)—The papal bull which Pope Pius commissioned Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli to proclaim at Lourdes, France, tonight to open ceremonies which will bring to an end the holy year, contains a prayer for peace.

The Catholic faithful were urged to look at and pray to the Madonna and officials of the Lourdes motor plant here today. With a "peace" meeting scheduled by union workers for tomorrow evening, Secretary of Labor Perkins sent Thomas J. Williams, labor department conciliator, to the city to study the situation. The plant is idle and approximately 2,000 employees are out of jobs.

Taking Hand in Strike.

Toledo, Ohio, April 25 (AP)—The Labor Department took a hand in the controversy between striking workers and officials of the Lorraine motor plant here today. With a "peace" meeting scheduled by union workers for tomorrow evening, Secretary of Labor Perkins sent Thomas J. Williams, labor department conciliator, to the city to study the situation. ## Amounts County Owes Texas Youth Confesses Towns and Sums Owed To Police He Murdered His Father and Mother County Treasurer States the Figures Given Are Correct Up to the Close of Business, Monday, April 22.

TOWNS LISTED

Topic Was One of Warm Discussions at the Meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

One of the rather warm discussions at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors Tuesday night arose over the statement that a number of the towns of the county, a dozen or so, were in arrears to the county treasurer for money owed to the county for payments advanced by the county treasurer on account of work relief.

Supervisors of a number of the towns referred to countered with statements that the county was indebted to their towns for corporation taxes paid direct to the county treasurer and that if they had the money owing to them from the county on this account they would be more than able to pay the balances owed by their towns to the county.

Inquiry at the county treasurer's office this morning brought out the statement which follows and which gives the amounts owed by the county to the towns in question and the amount owed by the towns to the county. The county treasurer stated that the figures given were correct up to the close of business Monday, April 22, and were as follows:

County	Town	County	Town
Denning .....	$ 4,27.00	Owes .....	$ 1,710.06
Espous .....	3,286.00	.....	.....
Gardiner .....	.....	313.87	.....
Hardenbergh .....	337.00	.....	.....
Hurley .....	5,423.00	.....	.....
Kingston .....	1,000.00	.....	.....
Lloyd .....	8,590.00	.....	.....
Marlborough .....	.....	319.46	.....
Olive .....	15,500.00	.....	630.04
Plattekill .....	1,300.00	.....	.....
Rosendale .....	2,400.00	.....	1,633.99
Saugerties .....	.....	2,121.96	.....
Shandaken .....	7,600.00	.....	1,868.13
Shawangunk .....	.....	634.07	.....
Ulster .....	17,200.00	.....	9,937.83
Wawarsing .....	.....	240.91	.....
Woodstock .....	2,500.00	.....	1,734.82
New Paltz .....	.....	Normal .....	427.32
Totals .....	$73,563.00	$20,851.19	.....

Totals ...$73,563.00 $20,851.19

In commenting on the figures attention was called by the county treasurer to the fact that even if all the money due from towns to the county was paid in the amount would be less than one-third of the amount owed by the county to the towns, let alone being available for payment of the county's other obligations and current expenses.

Money and Its Use, as Profits and Bonuses, Forms Background for Union.

Detroit, April 25 (AP)—The National Union for Social Justice, turned into a political force at a mammoth rally directed by Father Charles E. Coughlin last night, faced the middle west and east today promising to drive the "plutocrats" out of public office.

Chicago, New York and Philadelphia are under tentative consideration by Father Coughlin and his associates as the next battle grounds in the organization of state units of the National Union.

Flanked by two senators and four representatives from Washington, the Detroit priest pushed his National Union to the front as a definite political weapon last night. The Olympia Stadium, filled to near capacity by 15,352 persons set up salvoes of applause for him and his fellow speakers.

Money and its use, both as profits for manufacturers and bonuses for war veterans formed the backdrop setting for the political birth of the National Union. Aiding the Detroit priest in his first of 12 state rallies were Senators Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota and Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, and Representatives William Connery of Massachusetts, Martin L. Sweeney of Ohio, Thomas O'Malley of Wisconsin and William Lemke of North Dakota.

Thunderous cheers greeted caustic attacks on profit-makers and international bankers. Every disavowal of stand pat partyism likewise was cheered.

Father Coughlin called the first of the state meetings as new phases in the activities of the National Union. "In this phase," he said, "it is endeavoring to change minorities into majorities as it is determined to unite the dis-united, to organize the disorganized, to amalgamate the broken parts of our social structure."

Purpose of Union.

As to the purpose of the National Union in the field of American political affairs Father Coughlin said in his prepared text:

"It is not our desire to form a political party but it is our intention to drive out of public life the men who have promised us redress, who have preached to us the philosophy of social justice and, then, who have broken their promises, practice the philosophy of plutocracy."

"With these men we have no sympathy. They deserve to be driven from their congressional district, or from their senatorial state, or from the broad expanse of the presidential nation with our undivided, united strength."

In another phase of his prepared statement which he issued for publication, he said:

"The laborer shall not forget the defeat of the McCarran amendment. The farmer will not forget the agricultural plank in the Democratic platform espoused at Chicago in 1932. That policy promised tariff protection, the same protection that industry has today. . . . When the cabinet was established at Washington a Republican by the name of Wallace was made secretary of agriculture and the Democratic promises were forgotten.

"The days of broken promises and hypocritical pledges have passed as tonight there is born in the hearts of the members of the National Union . . . the philosophy of 'United we stand or divided we fall.'

The 16-point program of political reforms in matters of money and wages, was not discussed by any of the speakers.

BELITTLING ULSTER'S PLIGHT

The action of Democratic supervisors in pooh-poohing the financial condition of Ulster county can hardly be commended when the facts of the case are known. This attempt to make light of warnings of County Treasurer Pratt Boice smacks of an effort to cover up a serious political mistake which is likely to mar the fine record of the county over a number of years, a record which has gained applause for sound financial management, and which now must suffer the stigma of an organization which couldn't pay when funds were due.

In the face of so much political talk by members of both parties it is hard to ascertain just what is true and what is intended to produce votes next fall. However there are certain facts available which may be used to determine a sensible answer.

First the county did default on a $25,000 certificate of indebtedness, and did not have sufficient funds to completely cover wages due to meet the NRA payroll last week.

Second, although Democratic supervisors say the lack of funds is due to unpaid amounts due the county, Minority Leader Ronco Elsworth refutes this with the statement that a greater portion of town taxes due the county are already paid the county this year than was the case last year. He bases his remarks on the percentages paid compared to the budgets adopted.

Third, Treasurer Boice had warned the board in advance that there were not sufficient funds on hand to meet demands, a warning which, if heeded, could have avoided the present predicament by an earlier meeting of the board so that funds might have been authorized when due, saving any default.

In justice to the Democratic supervisors it may be said that certain TERA projects in the various towns are partly responsible for the financial plight of the county. The towns do owe the county money for these improvements and must pay.

Also, it may be admitted that the shortage of funds is a temporary affair, and that the county can meet obligations when money due is paid.

In the face of these facts it would seem that the proper action for the board to have taken would have been to have met previous to the time the obligations were due and appropriated or authorized funds to meet the situation. By doing so the supervisors would have kept the county's slate clean.

The action Monday night is an admission that the funds must be paid; and the authorization of $75,000 to take care of debt now due and those to soon mature, is an indication that the county must meet its obligations sooner or later.

Whether the supervisors misjudged in preparing the budget or whether other circumstances caused the present condition, the fact remains that the supervisors authorized money to meet obligations past due and they might better have met earlier to have done the same thing which would have kept the county's financial slate clear.

Regardless of any soft words and belittling of the situation, the county failed to meet obligations due, and this fact must impair the credit of the county at some future time.

GOLDEN RULE IN BUSINESS

"The application of the Golden Rule, a sane procedure," says a free-thinking columnist, "is delayed only in part by the lack of intellect. It is deliberately discouraged by special groups. It is perfectly apparent to the meanest intelligence that the application of the Golden Rule would mean the sudden death of the Profit System. Those interested in the indefinite prolongation of the latter will certainly fight against the application of the former."

This is violent language. Few of, and earlier spring conditions.

us will accept without question the statement that the Golden Rule would necessarily mean death to the "Profit System." For most business done under this system or any other business system consists of useful services not too well paid for. Fair payment, whether you call it "profit" or "salary" or "fee" or "wages," is surely not inconsistent with the Golden Rule. We do, however, need more of this rule of fairness and good will in business. Indeed, it may be that our system of private enterprise cannot endure unless we agree to treat competitors, customers, employers and employees as decently as we like to be treated ourselves.

Business competition is a sort of economic war, and unrestrained war is ruinous; but modified by voluntary acceptance of a moderate return for money, goods and services, our capitalism might carry on without these periodic disasters created by greed and ignorance. The Golden Rule, if generally accepted and observed as an economic principle, might solve most of our economic troubles.

ASTHMA SUFFERERS.

Asthma is such a distressing ailment that physicians everywhere are seeking and often finding the cause or causes in many cases, so that the "hopelessness" of former years is gradually disappearing.

Thus it was found that certain dusts, pollens from plants, the fur or feathers of animals were the cause in some cases.

Other cases were found to be due to certain growths, or deformities, in the nose; with the removal or correction of these conditions the attacks were stopped.

Sometimes it was a combination of some irritant—pollen, fur, feathers—together with some deformity that that was at fault.

In Great Britain they have what is known as the Asthma Research Council, just as they have organizations for the study and prevention of Heart Disease and Rheumatism or Arthritis.

Everything that is learned about asthma in the large asthma clinics or in private practice is published for the benefit of physicians and asthma sufferers throughout the world.

Thus the Asthma Research Council has issued an illustrated booklet on the treatment of asthma by exercises. The object of treatment is to restore the lungs and chest to normal size or to prevent distension of the chest from occurring. Ordinary breathing exercises, the object of which is to increase the expansion of the chest, are useless, as the asthmatic patient is already capable of expanding the chest to his fullest extent.

If an asthmatic patient is told to deeply depress his respiration is almost entirely in the upper chest; in chronic cases the lower part of the chest is already fully expanded and there is thus little if any movement in it as the diaphragm—the muscular floor of the chest—is used to only a slight extent.

The exercises are designed to teach the patient first, to use the lower part of the chest as well as the upper, and second to use the diaphragm more.

The body should be held loosely with the arms by the sides. The patient should face a mirror so that he can watch the effect of the exercises on his chest. The exercises are mainly exhaling or blowing the breath out of the chest and the patient helps to expel or drive out the air with his hands pressing on lower part of the chest.

When the exercises are performed properly they should cause wheezing and often coughing as the air is all driven out.

SARAH MAKES A CALL

JAMES' second courtship did not progress by leaps and bounds as Miss Julia and Melissy so confidently expected. He gave the summer to it. Most of the courtship took place on horseback.

James already had a riding horse, a handsome black gelding with one white root. He bought a beautiful little bay mare, guaranteed to be gentle, and hunted up a saddle. Almost every late afternoon, occasionally in the early morning, Miss Julia would see him passing her house, astride Ted and leading Lady.

Leslie was always ready and waiting for him. James would dismount, lift Leslie into the saddle and off they would go. Leslie clinging timidly to the saddle horn. James assuring her that there was nothing to be afraid of.

Once Miss Julia, frankly eavesdropping from her basement window down heard Leslie say, "I'm an awful coward. But I'm not really afraid as long as you keep close to me. If you get a foot ahead I'm panicky."

"You've already done a lot to make up for it. Why, he's a different man these days. But for my part I make up for it."

"More than my life. That isn't an exaggeration. I sacrificed James to my silly, silly pride. It isn't you I have to forgive, but myself. If I could live a thousand years I don't believe I'd ever be able to forgive myself."

Double Living Costs Predicted By Speaker

New York, April 25 (AP)—A rise of more than 100 per cent in the cost of living was forecast to the American Chemical Society today by Dr. Melvin T. Copeland, professor of marketing in the Graduate School of Business Administration, Harvard University.

"The chemical industry," he said, "will not be able to dodge those influenced which at the present time seem certain to cause the cost of living at least to double during the next ten years or thereabouts, possibly much sooner."

"Given time to become effective, the changes that have been made in our currency and credit situation since March 4, 1933, are sufficient to bring about a rise of that magnitude."

"If our government deficit continues to increase indefinitely, if the government succeeds in creating shortages in the supplies of enough commodities, or if more rabbits continue to come out of the hat at Washington, the cost of living may eventually increase much more than 100 per cent."

"The devaluation of the dollar was undertaken on the naive theory that prices would rise immediately in the same proportion that the gold content of the dollar was diminished. Although that rise has not yet taken place, it will come in the course of time."

"Unfortunately, it will follow rather than cause business recovery."

Leventhal Plant Is Approved By Institute

H. Leventhal

After an inspection of the fur storage vaults of H. Leventhal, Wall street furrier, by an engineer from the American Institute of Refrigeration, Mr. Leventhal received the following very complimentary letter which conveys the news of his appointment as a member of the American Institute of Refrigeration:

American Institute of Refrigeration
Office of the General Secretary
433 North Wacker Avenue
Chicago, Ill.

April 12, 1935

Leventhal

288 Wall Street,

Kingston, New York

Attention Mr. H. Leventhal. I am pleased to inform you that after a rigid inspection of your plant by one of our engineers, the committee has unanimously approved your plant and a certificate to that effect has been issued showing that your cold storage vaults were found to be properly equipped for the protection by storage in cold dry air, of furs, garments, fabrics and rugs, against damage by moths and other insects, as well as summer heat.

I want to congratulate you upon the fact that your cold storage vaults were of such high character that they could be certified to, and your establishment being selected as a member of the American Institute of Refrigeration. The standard required for cold storage vaults by this Institute is rather high, and all are not able to attain the necessary degree of excellency.

Your community is also to be congratulated on having such fine cold storage vaults available, and we trust that the public will appreciate the value of same.

Very truly yours,

J. F. NICKERSON,
General Secretary.

Two Cementon Men Stole Caps from Cars

Following investigation by Sergeant Cunningham and Trooper Reilly of the theft of 14 radiator and gas tank caps during a Grange meeting at Asbury Thursday night last, Frank Giordano and John Wyzonowski, both of Cementon, were arrested and arraigned before Justice Charles H. Bennett of Saugerties.

The two men pleaded guilty to the charge and were fined $30 each, with an alternative of 30 days in the county jail. They paid the fines.

PROBLEM OF RHINE REVIVED BY HITLER

Always Played Big Part in European Politics.

Washington.—Germany's new military program, which defies the Versailles treaty, renews the old problem of Rhineland fortifications, and again brings into the news a fertile valley which has so often been an economic and political frontier.

According to the terms of the treaty Germany was allowed to retain the left bank of the Rhine providing it was completely demilitarized. Military occupations of this zone (from 1918 to 1930) by American, French and British forces insured Germany's fulfillment of her agreement.

"The Rhine has always played an important part in European politics," says the National Geographic Society. "A glance at the map shows many of the most famous Rhine towns standing on the left bank of the river. This is because the Rhine was once a frontier of Roman civilization, and it was on the west side that Roman strongholds were established. Today, starting near its source, the river marks the boundary first between Switzerland and Liechtenstein, then Switzerland and Austria, Switzerland and Germany, and finally Germany and France."

Important Waterway.

"Flowing from south to north, the Rhine is one of Europe's chief waterways. With its numerous tributaries it drains one of the most densely populated regions of Europe, a country rich in minerals and intensively cultivated. It reaches the North sea coast opposite London, thus connecting with British shipping, and forming a natural outlet for Germany, Belgium, and the Netherlands.

"Canals join the Rhine from the Rhone, the Marne, and the Danube. It is navigable without interruption from Basle to the sea, a distance of 350 miles. Ocean-going steamers can ascend as far as Cologne, where cargoes are transferred to river boats, but only small craft can navigate the upper Rhine above Spire.

"Since the Versailles treaty the Rhine has become an international waterway open to ships of all nations.

"Although it rises in the Swiss Alps and enters the North sea through Netherland territory, to the Germans the Rhine is their national river. It is firmly woven into their history, their art, their music, and their literature. A boat trip down this stream is a journey through Germany's past as well as her present."

"The Rhine enters the Rift valley at Basle, flowing north between the ranges of the Vosges and the Black forest. At Mainz, where the Main enters the Rhine, the slopes of the Taunus hills turn the river westward until it reaches Bingen. Between Bingen and Bonn it winds through the narrow Rhine gorge beneath high cliffs adorned with ancient castles or steeply terraced vineyards.

Medieval Stronghold.

"Halfway between Bingen and Bonn the gorge is broken by the entrance of the Moselle from the west and the Lahe from the east. Coblenz is built on a triangle of land between the Moselle and the Rhine. The Romans called it Confluentes. During the occupation of the Rhineland by the allies after the World war it was headquarters for the American division.

"Bonn is famous as Beethoven's birthplace, and as the seat of an ancient university. Beyond Bonn the Rhine swings north and then west through a wide plain. Cologne (Köln), third city of Germany, is a busy port, trading in grain, wine, ores, coal, and timber. Above a sea of clifftop roofs soar the twin spires of the Cologne cathedral, each nearly as tall as the Washington monument.

"Industry and commerce crowd out natural beauty along the lower Rhine. Düsseldorf is an important manufacturing town, noisy with factories and great steel and iron works. It is particularly noted for its dyeing industries, and also as the birthplace of Heinrich Heine. Duisburg, at the point where the Ruhr joins the Rhine, is one of the most extensive river ports in the world. It is a chief center of the German steel industry, and commercial gateway for the coal and iron shipped out of the Ruhr. Incidentally it was once the home of Mercator, the great map maker.

"Coal smoke and machinery have failed to destroy the legends of the past. Siegfried was supposedly born at Xanten, near the Netherlands border, and at Cleves, Lohengrin, the knight of Wagner's opera, rescued the beautiful Elsa."

Snake With Hind Legs

Is Found in Nebraska

Omaha, Neb.—A snake with two legs was brought to town by Harry O. Palmer from his farm at Louisville. He says snakes with legs are rare, but they do have them sometimes. The fact that this may properly be called hind legs makes the reptile particularly worthy of notice, in his captor's opinion. The snake is a spreading viper, one of the venomous kind. It's two feet long and its legs are about five inches from the tip of the tail. They don't amount to anything to speak of, because they measure only a little more than a quarter of an inch in length, but nobody can deny that they are legs.

To Teach At Warwick.

Mrs. Louise S. Harder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Harder of 60 Clifton avenue, will teach English and commercial subjects next year in Warwick, N. Y. Mrs. Harder is one of the first five girls at Elmira College to receive positions for the coming year.

Says Publishers Preserved Freedom

New York, April 25 (AP)—The American Newspaper Publishers in the code negotiations, Col. Robert R. McCormick, of the Chicago Tribune, said today, "preserved the freedom of the press not only for newspaper publishing but for the entire people."

The editor and publisher, addressing the Advertising Club of New York, set forth in detail the negotiations between publishers' representatives and government officials, both as to the President's reemployment agreement in the first instance and the daily newspaper code in the second.

Discussing what he termed the "redcoat attack of 1933," Colonel McCormick said the latest threat to a free press "came in the form of a Trojan horse called 'the reemployment program' and was presented with a burst of propaganda as a measure to bring about business recovery."

An analysis of this reemployment program, he added, "indicated, however, that if consented to without objection or reservation, it contained full power for the suppression of a free press. It contained a licensing power under which a newspaper might be suppressed for expression of undesired editorial opinions."

When newspaper publishers refused to sign the President's reemployment agreement, Colonel McCormick said, unless a stipulation preserving freedom of the press was included, the code administration charged, and falsely, that the newspapers were using the freedom of the press to maintain improper working conditions ***."

In the end, however, such a stipulation was included, and "the freedom of the press had been saved for the time in the publishing of newspapers."

The fight was waged all over again, the Chicago newspaperman said, in the negotiations for a permanent code.

In the end, Colonel McCormick declared, "the newspaper publishers had preserved the freedom of the press not only for newspaper publishing but for the entire people."

"Detector" Shows Electric Currents Run Riot in SkinBy HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor.)

New York (AP)—Newest of all the "lie detectors" is the electric current of a few thousandths of a volt which flows in the skin, called the psycho-galvanic reflex.

While there are indications that body electric currents may some day be used to read thought, the currents now known are undecipherable when taken by themselves.

But in connection with other signs of emotion they have some meaning. For this reason Leonaides Keeler, of the scientific crime detection laboratory, Northwestern University, has added the electrical instruments to his latest model "lie-detector."

Other Emotional Signals.

The other, better-known emotional signals which this detector registers are respiration, blood pressure and pulse. Professor Keeler insists that this instrument, which he calls the polygraph, is not a "lie-detector."

So this polygraph records emotional symptoms of health, disease, mental upsets; and a skilled person may diagnose some of these symptoms as possible lies.

The riot of meanings flowing in a person's electrical skin currents is described by Professor Louis William Max of New York University. These currents may be read by dipping two fingers in two cups, each containing an electrically conducting liquid. Or silver coins may be placed on palm and back of the hand, with wire attached. The readings are either the voltage of current flowing normally through the skin, or skin resistance to the current.

Relief Registers Too.

A sudden, loud question will show in a change of resistance. A bright light flashing on registers similarly. Even a deep sigh of relief shows in the skin current.

The trouble at present is that a sign of innocence makes just as much electrical change as breath catching in guilt.

The skin currents appear to be connected with the autonomic nervous system. This system controls the rising of the hair of the head in fear, goose flesh, digestive action, the endocrine glands, and the action of the smooth muscles such as force the blood along the veins.

Therefore the psycho-galvanic current appears to indicate physical, perhaps emotional conditions beyond the individual's control.

Simple Housedress for Matronly Figures

The wrap-around housedress is the one women love most of all. Besides being universally becoming it excels in a wealth of other advantages. Notice this one and see for yourself the features that make it appealing. Its lines are long and slender with only a few seams and just darts enough to produce a casual fit. The neckline is finished with a rolled collar.

The construction of this dress is very much like that of a coat. Three buttons keep it closed at the waistline and the underneath side is held up by tapes coming from the side-seam on the right. The sleeves are set-in so all possibility of strain is removed.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1643-B is designed in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52 and 54. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards of 36 inch material.

You'll be daintily gloved if you wear these crocheted mesh gloves with the gauntlet cuff. And if you've been watching the reports from Paris you'll know that this is in high favor. And to be top notch the cuff must be perky like these are. This lacy pair will smarten your appearance and you'll find them simple to make. They're economical too, for the gloves are reversible; in this way you can give them even wear and not be heartbroken when the left is like new while the right is worn out.

In pattern 5352 you will find complete instructions for making the gloves shown; an illustration of them and of the stitches needed; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman Household Arts Dept., 259 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y.

Clean Out Kidney Poisons

Wash Out Your 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes

If kidneys don't pass 3 pints a day we get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, the 15 miles of kidney tubes which may become clogged with poisonous waste and the danger of acid poisoning is greatly increased.

Bladder passages are difficult, which often smart and burn like scalding water and cause discoloration.

This acid condition, brought about by poor kidney functions is a dangerous signal and may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

Most people wash their bowels which contain only 27 feet of intestines but neglect the kidneys which contain 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters. If these tubes and filters become clogged with poisons, it may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't run any risk. Make sure your kidneys empty 3 pints a day.

The students from this place, who attend Kerhonkson High School, are enjoying their Easter vacation.

Uncle Sam says "You're wrong if you think all Gasolines are alike!"

Uncle Sam makes a lot of jack by taxing gasolines. So he has to know exactly what goes into each brand. When he says,

"Tydol Gasoline is different from the others!"... you can bet your boots it is different. So different in fact, that Uncle Sam taxes it twice... once as a gasoline, and once for the lubricant it contains. "But," you ask, "why under the sun should a gasoline lubricate?"

Here's why: There is only one way to give the upper cylinders and valves of your motor the lubrication they need... and that is to mix a fine lubricant with your gasoline.

(Remember how the instruction book, with your new car, advised just that?) But adding a top-cylinder lubricant to your gas is both a nuisance and an expense.

So Tydol does it for you.

Into every gallon of Tydol is blended a super-lubricant (which is also a carbon-solvent). And, although Tydol gives you this extra lubrication service and pays an extra tax, lu-

bricated Tydol Gasoline doesn't cost you an extra penny... in fact, no more than ordinary gas.

NOTE: TYDOL pays Uncle Sam an extra tax because it contains a special top-cylinder lubricant... yet Tydol, the gasoline that actually lubricates as it drives, does not cost a penny extra.

paced effort to entertain, with a bewildered cast of players that include Ralph Bellamy, Valerie Hobson, Irene Ware and Catherine Doucet. "Grand Old Girl" stars the familiar and loved May Robson in a well seen drama of a veteran high school principal who bucks a bunch of grafting city politicians and wins out against them after one of the most entertaining bits of movie drama one could wish for. Supporting Miss Robson are Fred MacMurray, Mary Carlisle and Alan Hale. Excellent entertainment.

Tomorrow

Broadway: Same. Orpheum: "It's a Gift" and "The Westerner". With W. C. Fields the star of the opening number, the show must be classed as a riot of laughter, for Mr. Fields is just about the funniest of the present crop of comedians. It's all about a hen-pecked husband and the supporting cast offers such talent as Baby LeRoy, and Kathleen Howard. "The Westerner" is the other full length attraction and stars Tim McCoy in a cow country thriller of rapid action and brave deeds.

Kington: "Times Square Lady" and "Mystery of Edwin Drood". The first feature tells about a pretty Iowa girl who comes to New York to run her father's enterprises. These enterprises, by the way, prove as crooked as a cottonwood tree, with a bunch of swindlers holding the driving reins. But the young lady sticks to her task of clearing things up, and she accomplishes her purpose in the end. Virginia Bruce, Robert Taylor and Pinky Tomlin, a new singing find, head the players. "Mystery of Edwin Drood" is from the pen of Charles Dickens, rearranged and brought to the screen with Claude Raines in the starring role. A study in murder and the workings of a demented mind combine to make this creepy show more or less of a chiller, and the sets and general atmosphere is so well planned out that the play is intense and gripping drama. Heather Angel and Douglas Montgomery are also in the large cast.

Preliminary work has been completed for the planting of 100 square miles of trees to prevent soil erosion in the Pajare valley in California.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why external remedies so seldom give quick and permanent relief? Why cutting does not remove the cause? Do you know the cause of piles is internal?

That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins fabby, the parts fibrous?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for itching, bleeding and protruding piles discovered by Dr. Leonhard, and known as HEM-ROID? "Hem-Roid" banishes piles by improving the cause. It stimulates the circulation in the lower bowel—drives out the thick impure blood, and restores the affected parts to normal. It is successful in even the most stubborn cases, that McBride Drug Stores and all good druggists have. If you sufferer to get a bottle of HEM-ROID. Take jets today—take them as directed—then if not completely satisfied with results—your money back.—Ad.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS and SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Whatever the outcome of the reports and counter-reports concerning a break in the John Barrymore household, the prospects for an early return of Mrs. Barrymore to the screen seem bright.

Dolores Costello, who married Barrymore in 1928 and did not retire from pictures until nearly three years later, enjoyed tremendous popularity in the early days of talkies.

After the arrival of the baby, Miss Costello gave up studio life and devoted all her time to motherhood. There was, it is true, one more picture. When she came back to the sets to make it, she said she was glad to return, but that she had truly enjoyed those years of domesticity. The picture, "Expensive Women," was one of the year's box-office failures, and received no encore. Miss Costello, one of the screen's real beauties, with her large blue eyes and light brown hair, again became "simply" Mrs. John Barrymore. Came the second child, John II, and no more was heard of Dolores until recently.

Picture Talk

About the time the first rumors of an estrangement were hitting Hollywood from the east, where Barrymore has been spending some time after a film made in England, Dolores was making a personal appearance at a Warner Bros. "anniversary party." In the house up on the hill Mrs. Barrymore had become a little plump, but when studio executives saw her on this occasion she was again the slim, stately beauty of her starting days. There were conversations about pictures, and while nothing definite is arranged, Hollywood thinks the name Dolores Costello will again be seen in lights.

Miss Costello was star "discovered" by the fans—and by Barrymore about the same time. It was after she played his leading lady in the "Sea Beast" that they were married, and from this film dated her rise to fame.

Was No. 1 Star

When talkies came, she became Warners' No. 1 feminine star. But her final film, "Hearts in Exile"—she considers it her worst—was finished before the audible screen had passed completely out of the limping stage. There were "part-talkies" also, such as "Noah's Ark" and "Glorious Betsy" (or "Glorious Bet-the") as the wags called it.

So when she returns, as Hollywood thinks she will, Dolores Costello may be given a better opportunity—at least, if they present her with a good story, there will not be the handicap of technical imperfections such as existed in the early talkies when she was an outstanding star of mediocre films."

Three hours before they were to be married, William E. Howell (above) telephoned Miss Yolande P. Charlot that all was in readiness, since he had not been seen or heard from since, and is the object of a search by Worcester, Mass., police. (Associated Press Photo)

Rotarians Hear of the Science of Pathology

The science of pathology, that analyzes disease through the tissues of the body, its importance in modern medicine and its interesting history was brought to the members of Kingston Rotary yesterday noon at the Hotel Governor Clinton by Dr. J. S. Taylor, in charge of the Kingston City Laboratory. The speaker's knowledge of his subject presented in a manner both appealing and understanding to the layman, was so fascinatingly given that the program proved to be one of the best the local service club has enjoyed in some time.

"Pathology," stated the speaker, "is the study of disease. How, the question is asked, does pathology differ from clinical medicine? Clinical medicine studies the manifestations of disease through an analysis of the symptoms and signs presented by the living patient, such as fever, chills, headache, pain, etc. Pathology, on the other hand, studies disease through the body tissues."

"For centuries," continued Dr. Taylor, "medicine consisted primarily of the study and classification of disease through clinical observation, and practically nothing was known of the various organs resulting from disease processes before the 16th century. With the Renaissance and following it, there was a re-awakening in medicine. During medico-ventured into the obscure realms of anatomy. In their dissections they observed the changes in the body which had resulted in death. These first observations were the beginning of modern pathology and progress in this field was slow until the latter part of the 19th century when the use of the microscope enabled students to observe the changes in the diseased tissues. Identify bacteria as the cause of many diseases and to analyze the blood and body fluids together with the discharges from the body. It soon became evident that medicine based on symptomatic diagnoses was on a very unstable foundation and that most of the diseases had changes in the organs which could account for the presenting symptoms and signs. Because of this, pathology came to hold a leading place in the medical world and today pathology might be called the tribunal of last appeal."

"Pathology then," explained the speaker, "is primarily that division of medicine which specializes in ascertaining the anatomical changes in the tissues of the body resulting from disease processes. With an understanding and familiarity of these changes the pathologist then began to find the causative agents and the science of pathology took rapid strides when it was shown that bacteria were the cause of disease. This form of pathology is called bacteriology. It soon became evident that

In speaking of local conditions, Dr.

Taylor explained that the city of Kingston laboratory was reorganized under Mayor Carey. Through the work and interest of Kingston medical men, the old laboratory was found inadequate for the needs of the city, and a new laboratory is in process of construction. State aid will care for one half of the expenses of the laboratory.

Regarding the benefits of a local pathologist, Dr. Taylor stated many reasons. It will be of great assistance to local surgeons because a prompt diagnosis of disease may be determined while a patient is under anaesthetic. The tissue may be diagnosed in a few minutes to see whether it is of malignant nature. Before this tissue had to be sent to Buffalo for diagnosis and this sometimes required weeks. The speaker also stated that Kingston hospitals were given a higher rating because a high- standard of medical and surgical practice can be maintained. The work of a pathologist is of special importance in autopsies, and the use of biopsies on patients affected with disease is also of great benefit to patient and surgeon alike.

Dr. Taylor paid high praise to the New York State Department of Health and stated that this department is considered a model in medical circles.

In concluding his talk, the speaker said that great headway had been made in the Kingston laboratory, but there was still much to be done. The most important thing about this new laboratory, according to Dr. Taylor, was the staff which composed it. When the new Kingston laboratory setup is functioning smoothly, its work in Kingston will be of great benefit to doctors, patients and hospitals of this city.

$2051 Reported
For First Day of "Y"
Financial Drive

The Grand Wampum report last night at the local Young Men's Christian Association's first report for the Big Indian drive for finances being conducted this week totaled over $2,061, which for an opening night compares favorably with reports of the past few years.

The Seneca Tribe, chief by Herb Myers and Emil Boessneck, led the Indians with a total of $278.50 and a total of 45 subscriptions. Other tribemen in the drive, however, have their fighting colors on now, and are more than insistent that Herb's Indians shall be defeated tonight at the Pow-wow in the "Y" gym. A great report is promised when the Indians assemble at 6:25 for supper.

L. E. Van Etten led the individuals last evening and at the same time graduated from "papoose" which all of the workers are to the "dick" stage, and received his white feather by turning in a total of $65. Others who attained more than $50 and became "bucks" were Stuart Randall of team 5, Capt. A. J. Trowbridge of team 6, and A. J. Burns of team 12.

"Papoose": S. H. Peyer of team No. 10 became "Leading Runner" by turning in 8 pledges. The Rev. J. N. Armstrong's team No. 10 became the "Hot-footer" team with a total of 17 pledges and Capt. E. J. Trowbridge's team No. 5 became the "Winning Team" by turning in $121.50. Herb Myers' division, the Senecas, were high tribe and Mr. Myers will wear the Indian head dress until after tonight's reports. Frank Walter and his "Oneidas" have captured the American Flag by turning in a total of 44 pledges.

Chief Rowland called the meeting together and called upon the Rev. Mr. Oudemool, pastor of First Dutch, to pronounce the invocation after Paul Zucca, accompanied at the piano by Danny Bitner, had led in the singing of "America."

After supper, Mr. Rowland called upon the Rev. Mr. Oudemool to say a few words which were well received by the men. Mr. Oudemool told how George Williams, while still a young man, and connected with a dry goods firm in London, organized the New Men's Christian Association which now numbers over a million members and has branches in nearly all of the countries of the world, and expressed his hope that the men would secure the necessary funds for this association to continue its good work.

The reports were then given as follows:

Mae Ready to Forget Alleged Forgotten Man

Hollywood, Calif., April 28 (AP)—There may be a forgotten man in Mae West's life. But Mae went right along denying it today. "When I get married," said Mae, a little weary about the hubbub over marriage she says she never experienced. "I'll concentrate on it."

And I'll be the first to announce it." That was buxom "Diamond Lil's" latest answer to the supposition that she was the Mae West who married a song-and-dance man named Frank Wallace in Milwaukee 24 years ago.

Reports that the New York Frank Wallace—one of several Frank Wallaces to blossom out of the general Mae West question—was besieged with stake offers on his claim to being the missing "Mr. Mae West" brought another report from the blonde screen star. "Well," said Mae, "that makes it appear that he is getting precisely what he went after—work."

Mae added that she was glad the New York Frank Wallace "was getting a hit" out of the matter, but said she was sorry "he had to pick on me for it."

To another report from Houston, Tex., linking her name up with an R. A. Burmeister in a marriage license supposedly issued in March, 1924, Mae sighed:

"That's the ninth man since January I'm supposed to have been married to."

The London Express quoted the 24-year-old fellow of the Royal Geographic Society as saying he was compelled to become a match peddler to support his wife and six-months-old daughter as a consequence of his mother's bringing an allegation of affections suit in Connecticut against the elder Wall's second wife.

"All father's resources are tied up in this case," the Express interview said. "He had to stop sending the monthly sum that helped us carry on."

"I have no sympathy for mother," he was reported to have said. "My mother's lawsuit brought me to this

'American Tragedy' Youth Reads Love Novels As Execution Nears

Wilkes Barre, Pa. (AP)—Absorbed in love novels, Robert Allen Edwards, youthful "American Tragedy" slayer of Freda McKechnie, waits with apparently little concern for alienists to say whether he should die in the electric chair.

The coal engineers' helper, who called himself a "ladies' man", is under sentence to be executed May 6. He was convicted last October of blackjacking his neighborhood "girl friend" so he could marry Margaret Crain, an East Aurora, N. Y., music teacher.

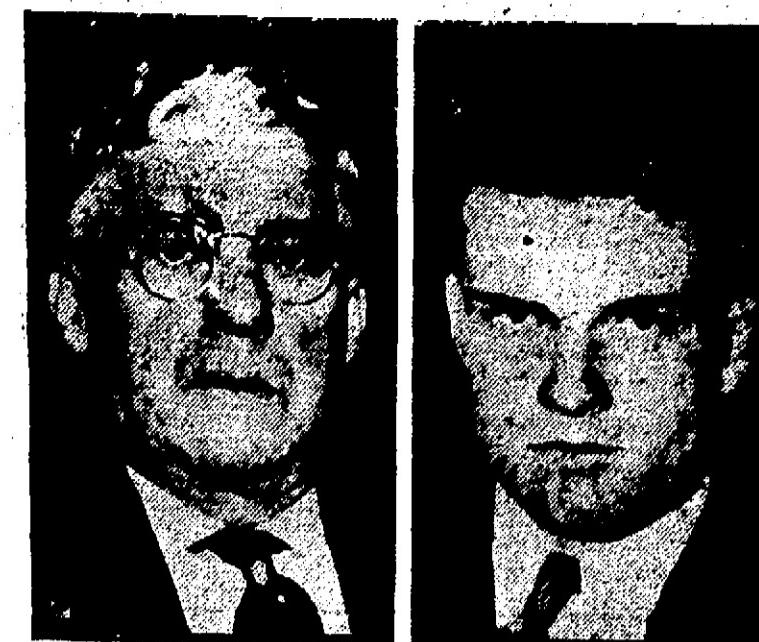

Freda's father, George McKechnie, also a mine worker, has told the Pennsylvania pardon board that he will not object if the board "sees fit" to commute the sentence to life imprisonment. Nine of the jurors who convicted Edwards, likewise will have no objections.

Attorney Hints "Deranged Mind"

Attorney General Charles J. Martiotti has said the torrid letters Edwards sent the Crain girl—a sensation in Edwards' trial—"indicate a deranged mind."

Bobby and Freda were neighbors in Edwardsville. But at Mansfield Teachers College, Edwards fell in love with Margaret Crain. They planned to be married. Edwards quit school and upon his return to the mining community again "kept company" with Freda.

Last June she told him she was to become a mother. They talked of a hasty marriage. A few nights before Freda was to become Edwards' bride, they went for a swim in Harvey's Lake, a nearby pleasure resort. Though rain pelted upon them and lightning flashed, Freda plunged into the water.

Only the decision of pardon officials stands between Robert Allen Edwards (right), young "American Tragedy" slayer and his execution in the electric chair May 6. George McKechnie (left), father of slain Freda, told the pardon board he will not object if it "sees fit" to commute the youth's sentence to life imprisonment.

Edwards returned home late that night—without Freda. Her body, head lacerated, was found next day in the lake. A blackjack belonging to Edwards was picked up nearby. He was indicted.

Pardon officials said they were "not satisfied" with the autopsy and that they want to study the testimony of medical men. They also urged that Edwards' mentality be scrutinized.

Edwards, grinning sheepishly, subjected himself to the examination, then turned again to his novels.

Events Around The Empire State

Schenectady, N. Y., April 25 (AP)—Amateur swimmers from the eastern, northern and central parts of New York state, it is expected, will compete in the "deeper Hudson swim marathon" from Troy to Albany in August.

Ralph Ury, president of the Adirondack District A. A. U., and William Leonard, A. A. U. official in charge of the swim, said it is expected that the proposed swim will attract between 25 and 50 competitors.

Rochester, N. Y., April 25 (AP)—A temporary writ prevented Police Chief Henry T. Copenhagen today from carrying out a plan to have his men seize all "iron claw" five-cent amusement machines remaining in the city. The writ forbids the police from interfering with the machines.

Police action followed two weeks of warfare between rival "iron claw" operators which saw window smashings, shot gun attacks on the machines, and one running gun fight between police and hoodlums.

The average daily vehicle density per mile of state highways in California is 1,572 cars.

One of the commanding political principles of the day seems to command that the federal government spend as much money as possible for relief and public works and then pay for it by taking it out of the pockets of the rich.

Ithaca, N. Y., April 25—March, 1935, in New York state was the driest March since 1927; temperatures averaged three degrees above normal, and the amount of sunshine was about normal, according to the weather bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture at Cornell University.

"Rainfall was heaviest over the western plateau area and the central lakes region, where it averaged close to normal. A deficiency was noted in the Hudson valley and the Atlantic coast region. For the state as a whole the deficiency amounted to about one inch."

Snowfall was light, averaging only one-half of the normal amount. Dannemora received the heaviest monthly snowfall, amounting to eighteen inches.

No severe or damaging storms were reported during the month. Ice fields covered the eastern half of Lake Erie during the entire month, averaging from eight to twelve inches in thickness. Light dust in the air, probably carried eastward from the Plains states was reported from several stations in western and northern New York on March 21 and 29.

"Not much work was accomplished in the fields during the month, except some plowing near the close. Near the end of the month, grains and grasses began to show green color. During the last week, maple syrup and sugar making was in full swing. Peaches suffered severe winter injury in the Hudson valley, but in western New York they appear to have escaped serious injury."

Twilight Nights, 20-Hour Days Will Greet Alaska Pioneers

By W. A. WELLS

San Francisco, (AP).—It's a hardy tally, are a post to be reckoned with. If they face up north, but they're a hardy bunch who face it—these modern argonauts who are sailing soon on the U. S. transport St. Michael into the sunlight of a new economic existence in the Matanuska valley of Alaska.

The army of workers chosen to accompany the handpicked contingent of agriculturists have been recruited from able-bodied experienced foresters toughened to hard work by months spent in the transient forest camps, chiefly in California. The farmers, whom the work army will help to establish, were handpicked in Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin, from environments somewhat similar as to climate to that of the northern valley.

Rigors of weather, isolation and the prospect of greater deprivations than most have been accustomed to have been stressed by the federal emergency relief administration which is sponsoring this mass migration.

Days 20 Hours Long

But the enthusiasms of those chosen and of thousands who have found the battle against drought, depression or other adverse factors a losing one, have not been chilled. Relief officials here have been literally swamped by applications of those who would join in the unique colonization movement. Many times the number which could be included have tried to get their names added to the list.

About the time the first contingent of homesteaders and their worker cohorts arrive, the days will be 20 hours long and the remaining four hours scarcely darker than deep twilight. Yet the days will not be too long for the work that lies ahead.

First there is a tent city to be built, then the log cabins which will be the permanent homes and, before farming can be gotten underway, the 40-acre tracts allotted to each migrating family, must be cleared of timber, underbrush, moss or other covering. There are schools and a church to be constructed and, if one is desired, a movie theater to be built.

A 'Flag-Stop' Now

Palmer, Alaska, the site chosen by the government for the proposed community center, at present consists of postoffice, a railroad station and a house or two. Workshops, a creamery and a cannery are planned.

The winters are long, the summers short and there are heavy rains in July, August and September. Mosquitoes, in the spring months especially, are a pest to be reckoned with. Tentative schedules provide for two or more cruises from San Francisco or Seward. The first trip scheduled to start soon after May 1 calls for a passenger list of 600, of which 165 will be women and children. There will be doctors, dentists and nurses. On the second cruise the St. Michael will transport 470, of which the majority will be women and children.

Yugoslavia's Show Places

The most widely known section of Yugoslavia is the Dalmatian coast. Here is the ancient town Split (Spalato) with the famous ruins of the palace of the Roman Emperor Diocletian. The well-preserved huge palace is a unique example of Roman architecture. Near Split are the ruins of the early Christian town of Salona, and a little to the northwest stands the ancient town of Trogir (Trav) with the Lion of St. Mark on the walls of the cathedral and of the city hall, proof of the power of Venice in the Middle Ages.

Flags on U. S. Capitol

There are two flags which fly on the United States Capitol day and night every day in the year. These are the flags which fly immediately above the main east entrance and over the west front of the Capitol. There are two other flags, one over the east front of the senate wing, the other over the east front of the house wing. These fly only during the legislative day—that is when the house in question is in session.

IN THE REIGN OF GEORGE V

10. Industrial War!

England, celebrating 25 years reign by George V., still remembers vividly nine days in May, 1926, when 2,500,000 workers quit their jobs in a general strike that shook the economic structure of the United Kingdom. It grew out of a strike and lockout of coal miners and while the general strike was called on May 12, the miners remained out for months. The photograph shows London policemen rescuing a truck load of food after the motor had been disabled by strikers. The words "Food only" and "Kings X" chalked on top of the cab showed what the contents were and that they were destined for delivery at King's Cross, one of the busiest traffic centers of the capital's West End.

THAT gives some idea of what a telephone can do in your home. It's always on duty. Never takes time off. Is always ready for instant service night or day—whether you want to call a neighbor, or someone hundreds of miles away. It can do so many things for you—save time and worry—take you to the stores when you can't go in person—protect you and your family in emergencies. Why be without one when it costs only two or three nickels a day—at most a nickel apiece for a family of three. Why not come in and talk it over with us at the Business Office?

Painless Dentistry Appears to Be Here

Painless dentistry, which has been promised for many years, appears to have arrived. By means of controlled volume of nitrous oxide and oxygen gas it is now possible to prepare cavities, grind down teeth for crowns and bridge work, clean sensitive teeth or do any branch of dentistry painlessly. This result is gained by a more accurate control of the gas machine. Through the machine which has been tested for some five years and perfected for the past two years it is possible to administer the gas to a patient in such quantities as to maintain a condition in which the patient is insensitive to pain while the patient maintains all senses such as hearing, speech, sight and is able to move about and cooperate with the dentist. By the use of the machine the quantity of gas is so closely controlled that there are no after effects and the patient may leave the office immediately.

This is a most revolutionary method for treatment of children and nervous people since the introduction of gas-oxygen anesthesia by Dr. Wells in 1840.

Complete anaesthesia can be given with the same apparatus by control of the gases in case of necessity for painless extractions. For extractions the only precautionary measure is to come to the office with an empty stomach. Even this precaution is not necessary for grinding teeth with analgesia.

The machine, very similar to the usual gas machine, has an apparatus whereby the amount of gas can be very closely controlled and that is the secret of its use. Two minutes is required to induce analgesia, according to the individual patient, and the gas can be so regulated and continued indefinitely with no ill effects upon the patient.

The apparatus has been in use in the larger cities for the past two years and is particularly popular in Boston and vicinity. The well known Walt Winchell recently had work done with the aid of the new device and its success caused him to write a lengthy article for publication.

A specialist from Boston has been spending several days in Kingston instructing Dr. Paul Perlman in the use of the new device, and Dr. Perlman has installed the equipment in his office at 260 Fair street where many local people have had dental work done with use of the new device.

POLITICS at Random

FROM the political viewpoint, no recent event at Washington developed more interesting angles than house consideration and passage of the social security bill.

The most obvious thing was that for the first time this session, the big democratic majority marched forward with firm precision, providing overwhelming margins of safety for what Mr. Roosevelt had asked.

The exact significance of this is disputed, for many factors were involved in the administration victory. But it at least raised a question whether the President was not regaining the leadership which had been so much discounted of late, and might not be expected hereafter to exercise a more direct control over his party in congress.

Of course only time can provide the answer. Many important administration tests still are to come. Until the moment arrives for action on such measures as the banking, NRA, and utilities bills, it probably will be impossible to tell whether the social security victory really was significant, or only a flash in the pan.

House Radicalism Mild
EQUALLY interesting and alive E with possibilities is the fact that on this issue the extreme radicals were routed completely.

For a long time, democratic leaders had been suffering from an obvious case of jitters arising principally from the wide-spread agitation for

By BYRON PRICE
(Chair Of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

The democratic house managers knew of the wide human appeal of unemployment and old age pension legislation. They knew how many republicans, on occasions when individual states were considering such legislation, had committed themselves to its support. They knew also that many employers belonging to the republican party would oppose it, and call the President's program socialist.

So they took off the lid, and threw the whole subject open to debate. It is not beyond belief that they hoped the republican leadership would take a definite stand in opposition, and all the pages of the congressional record with speeches which later could be used in an effort to show that the republican party is the party of big business, and against "the masses."

Some republican stalwarts did speak at length against the bill, but most of them refused to fall in with the democratic plan. Minority Leader Snell, although he was taken to task for it privately by some of his colleagues, kept quiet and voted "aye." So did 76 other republicans, while only 10 voted the other way.

Which may make it hard to pin the opposition label on the party as a whole, although some democrats will try.

Celestial Visitors

There is really nothing extraordinary about a daylight meteor, except that it must be unusually large and close to the surface of the earth to demonstrate itself against the sun-illuminated atmosphere.

These "celestial visitors" as they have been called, are courting through space constantly, more of them at certain seasons, but some of them all the time. It is only when they come within the air envelope of the earth that they manifest themselves, through being heated to incandescence in their passage. Some are entirely consumed by the heat thus engendered, while others, partly consumed, fall to the surface and explode and in rare instances large fragments of them are found. Some great masses of meteoric material have reached the earth.

It won't do, either, for old age pensions to start at 65 years. If industry won't hire men over 45, Practical demonstrations of long distance air passenger flights at speeds above 200 miles an hour have been afforded the American public during the last fifteen months. Rickenbacker, Doolittle and Andrews, each in turn clipping precious minutes off the transcontinental transport record during that time, have proved beyond doubt that air liners of today are competent to carry passengers between the Pacific and Atlantic as swiftly as the sun.

The story of the transport record between Los Angeles and New York, held first by TWA, Inc., next by Eastern Air Lines and at present by American Airlines, is regarded by leaders of the air industry as definite proof that long distance non-stop passenger flights are practical.

All of these flights were particularly significant because they were made with planes now in everyday use on the air lanes of America. Leland S. Andrews, present holder of the record, can be found at any time flying his regular schedule for American Airlines on the Los Angeles-El Paso sector of its Southern Transcontinental route.

Also important is the fact that all transcontinental transport record attempts during this period have been carried to successful completion. The only failures have been charged against special non-passenger carrying planes.

Denies Complicity

New York, April 25 (AP).—Leonard Gardner, 33, denied at police lineup today any complicity in a $15,000 Hoboken, N. J., fur robbery of which he is accused. The prisoner said he had lately been engaged as a solicitor of contributions for a benefit circus to be held at White Plains, N. Y., under the auspices of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association of Greenwich in Westchester county.

Stomach Gas Exploded

In an English medical journal, the Lancet, Dr. T. East reports the case of a man who complained of a stomach ache after supper, but took his wife to a movie just the same. In the wait between shows the man took out a cigarette and scratched a match, but when he applied the light to the end of the cigarette there was an explosion which blew the cigarette across several rows of seats, singed the man's mustache and burned his fingers. Doctor East explains this mishap was caused by the gas from the victim's stomach mingling with air taken in by breathing in just the right proportions to make it inflammable. He literally ignited his breath, causing the explosion.—Wall Street Journal.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By CLAUDE E. JACOBS

New York, April 25. (AP)—The stock market gave a boom-time demonstration today under the leadership of buoyant silver issues.

With the treasury boasting the domestic silver price to 77.57 cents an ounce, a 15-year peak, and world silver rates jumping almost as much, there was a rush for the mining shares at the start. Other groups were not slow in joining the upturn and numerous new highs for the year were recorded. The trading pace was the best for several months. Profit taking later calmed the list with resultant moderate reactions.

At their best shares of Cerro De Pasco were up more than 6 points and U. S. Smelting about 5. Other metals, 1 to 2 higher, included American Smelting, Howe Sound, Silver King, Park Utah, Anaconda and Kennecott.

Among gainers of fractions to a point or so were U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, du Pont, Johns-Manville, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Union Pacific, American Tobacco "B", Liggett & Myers "B", Deere, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Westinghouse and General Electric.

Quotations given by Parker, McElroy & Co., members, N. Y. Stock Exchange, 120 Broadway, New York city; branch office, 222 Wall street.

Bonus Compromise Is Approved Today

Washington, April 25 (AP)—The Harrison bonus compromise, liberalized to provide cash instead of bonds, was approved today by the Senate finance committee after the two full cash payment proposals had been overwhelmingly rejected.

The compromise, for which administration support is claimed, was voted out by the committee without a record vote after an hour and a half executive session.

Previously the committee had voted 12 to 8 to substitute the compromise plan for the Vinson cash payment bill, after the Vinson proposal had been substituted by a 13 to 4 vote for the inflationary Fatman bill passed by House.

The major change in the Harrison bill was an amendment by Senator Connally (D., Tex.) which was supported by Chairman Harrison, to permit veterans to exchange their adjusted service certificates for cash instead of negotiable bonds as originally proposed.

The amendment was adopted without a record vote. Preliminary estimates were that it would require about $880,000,000 in cash, but the total would depend entirely upon how many veterans wanted to hold their certificates until maturity.

Another amendment adopted by the committee would permit the President in his discretion to pay the cost of the measure out of the recently enacted $4,880,000,000 war relief fund.

This amendment by Senator Gore (D., Okla.) carried by a vote of 11 to 7.

Chairman Harrison predicted, however, that President Roosevelt would "never in the world" take advantage of it.

Mt. Marion Folk Bade Pastor Farewell

Mt. Marion, April 25.—On Wednesday evening the people of Mt. Marion gave their beloved pastor a farewell party at Frank Hill's Community Hall. The pastor, the Rev. Arthur Oudemool, has accepted the call to the Old Dutch Church in Kingston, and it was with real regret that the Mt. Marion people said goodbye to him.

The program was started by the children, who greeted him with song as he entered the hall. This was followed by the Young People's Association, which he founded, singing a new theme song which Mr. Oudemool had never heard. After a short interval the men's quartet, which the pastor started and taught, sang "Kathleen Mavourneen" and "Some Folks Say," which were the two pieces he had liked best of all those the men sing. Later he was presented with a purse by one of the elders and the congregation sang him a farewell song.

While it was with sorrow the people said goodbye, yet it was with joy, too, for the larger opportunity for work which has come to him.

Hearing Denied

Dr. J. S. Taylor testified to the injuries to Mr. Eckhoff. They were about the head and face. The skull was fractured and there was brain laceration and numerous cuts and bruises about the head. Death had taken place he said within a few minutes after the accident.

Roy Stalter of Saugerties was called. He was going north in the car of Douglas Krown. They saw no lights and came suddenly to glass on the road. They slowed down and then saw the wreck of the Studebaker on the road. The Studebaker was about 8 or 10 feet above the place they first saw the glass. There were no lights or flares to be seen. Parked at the Spencer gas station on the right of the road going north and about 20 feet above the track in the ditch was the other track. They stopped at the gas station and talked to some people and then started back to where the Studebaker was after they were told it was the Huber car.

Doctor Testifies

Jefferson City, Mo., April 25 (AP)—The Supreme Court, Division No. 1, today denied a rehearing to Walter H. McGee, under sentence to be hanged in Kansas City May 16 for the kidnapping nearly two years ago of Miss Mary McGee, 26, daughter of the city manager of Kansas City.

Occasionally we get an optimistic statement from someone who is supposed to know that we are about to break into an era of great prosperity and that the jammed up condition of money and credit is now over. Everyone who has the interests of his country at heart hopes that this is now true. Note: Some can stand some real prosperity and some real growth if the legs we will hear about these expansive and foolish new schemes for financing the young and knitting over the social fabric of the industry.

Witnesses Sworn in Inquest Into Death Of George T. Eckhoff

Several witness were sworn this morning before Coroner Leon DuBois of New Paltz in an inquest held to determine the facts surrounding the death of George Theodore Eckhoff, 55, of Saugerties, who was killed on April 18, while a passenger in the car of Fred Huber of Saugerties. Mr. Eckhoff, who was employed as janitor in the banks at Saugerties, with Mr. Huber were driving toward Kingston after midnight on April 18 when the Studebaker car of Huber collided with a parked truck on the Kingston-Saugerties road near the Spencer gas station at Glenorie. Mr. Eckhoff was severely injured and died within a few minutes.

There are conflicting stories told as to whether the truck had lights at the rear and whether there were flares burning at the time.

Trooper Arthur Reilly was the first witness called. He testified that he had been out on another call when word was received by his wife that the accident on the Saugerties road. That word came when a passing motorist notified Mrs. Reilly that there had been an accident and the injured man had been picked up and was being taken to the hospital in the car which stopped at the Trooper's house. The driver of that car was Francis A. Tillson of Utica. He had been passing when he saw the man was severely injured and had picked up the man and started for the hospital. Mrs. Reilly called Sergeant James Cunningham at Saugerties. Half an hour later Trooper Reilly arrived home and went to the scene with Sergeant Cunningham.

Saw Truck In Ditch.

Trooper Reilly said he observed an Autocar truck overturned in the ditch on the east and on the highway when he arrived. It was completely off the concrete. This truck had a trailer. A Studebaker sedan of Huber, badly wrecked, was overturned on the road on the left or west lane and wreckage was strewn about. The top of the Studebaker was partly torn off and lay in the center lane.

Huber told the trooper he and Eckhoff were proceeding from Saugerties to Kingston at about a 30 to 35 mile an hour clip when they saw lights of car on the east side of the road. There were no lights on the west side of the road and they kept on. Suddenly the truck appeared in front and Huber swerved to avoid it but collided. He did not recall what happened until some time after. The truck was owned by William A. Collins of Stillwater, and was driven by Clarence H. Payne of Mechanicville. Payne was there the trooper said, and he talked to him.

On East Side of Road.

At that time the truck which had been in the accident was parked on the east side of the highway ahead of the truck in the ditch and was on the road in a gas station. Payne said he had been driving north with another truckman. At Saugerties he stopped to take a nap and a passing motorist told him there was one of the trucks in the ditch south of Saugerties. He turned around and drove back. When he came to the scene where the truck was overturned he stopped his truck on the right of the road going south and alighted. He was going to the aid of his fellow truckman when the car was seen coming from Saugerties. At the time he said his lights were burning on the front and rear of his truck. He told the assistant driver to take the truck down the road and turn it around and return to the scene but after that had been done the Studebaker struck the truck at the rear. White Sox Threaten

A year ago the Chicago White Sox rebuilt at a considerable expense, looked as if they might go somewhere, but they finished at the bottom of the American League. This spring, as the popular choice for the cellar berth, they have begun to make threatening gestures at the leaders, particularly the champion Detroit Tigers.

With a combination of heavy hitting by veterans and rookies alike, plus a couple of excellent mound performances by the "freshman" right hander, John Whitehead, the Pale Hose have taken four out of five decisions from Detroit for a total of five victories in eight starts.

Whitehead, who made his big league debut last week by limiting the champions to six hits, cut that figure in half yesterday to win 10 to 4. One of the blows was Bill Rogell's homer and another a triple by Mickey Cochrane, both in the second inning when the Tigers scored all their runs.

As backing the rookie got two more homers by Zeke Bonura, one each by Al Simmons and Vernon Washington and 11 other assorted blows that enabled the Sox to come far behind to win.

Indians Hold Second

In contrast to Whitehead's easy triumph, Fay Thomas, a "recruit" with a good bit of previous major league experience, turned in a four-hit game for the Browns and lost it 3-2 to Cleveland when he forced in the odd run in the ninth with his seventh walk. The triumph, their fifth in six starts, kept the Indians in second place ahead of Chicago.

The third American League contest saw Washington, with Bob Burke tossing a steady game, edge out the Athletics 3 to 2 despite Jimmie Foxx's third home run of the year. The league-leading Red Sox and the New York Yankees were rained out.

Blanton Wins for Pirates

Another outstanding rookie finger, Darrell (Cy) Blanton of Pittsburgh, struck out 11 Cincinnati batters and allowed only six hits to earn the Pirates a 5 to 2 victory with the aid of a four-run rally in the eighth. In his first start Blanton shut out the Cardinals with one hit.

Fine pitching also marked the other National League contests. Van Mungo pitched the Dodgers to a 4 to 1 triumph over the Phillies, allowing only four hits and whiffing nine.

Only 8 Off Schumacher

Hal Schumacher, the Giants' big right hander, limited the Ruthless Braves to three hits, losing a shut-out by Lee Mallon's ninth inning homer and knocking in one run himself. The Babe failed to start because of a slight cold and struck out late in a brief appearance as a pinch batsman.

Lon Warneke rang up his third straight triumph for the Cubs, going 10 innings to beat the Cards 7 to 6 when Dizzy Dean was nicked for three hits in the extra frame.

National Open Might Break Entry Records

New York, April 25 (P).—Although the final count will not be announced for several days, indications were today that entries for the 1935 national open golf championship's sectional qualifying rounds might approach record-breaking proportions.

When the deadline was reached at 6 p. m. last night, it was estimated by the United States Golf Association that 1,150 entries were on file. The record entry was 1,177 in 1930.

Allocation of qualifying berths and pairings for the tests will be announced next week.

Legionnaires Drop Post-Season Game To Visitations By 34-41

Too much Bobby McDermott in every period and a scoring spurt in the last five minutes by the Visitations sent Frank Morgenweck's Kingston Legionnaires down to defeat, 34-41, before 1,500 basketball fans at the Municipal Auditorium, Wednesday night, in the post season game for the American Legion Welfare fund.

The victory put Brooklyn on even footing with Kingston, the Legionnaires having trimmed John Donlon's club 33-24 at Atlantic City in the big basketball carnival there.

McDermott had an on night for fair, scoring 20 of the Visitations' 41 points. He shot 'em in from all angles, starting in the first period during which he made 9 of the 12 markers scored in that frame by the visitors. He continued with two fields and a foul in the second and three deuces in the third.

Carl Johnson, the star of Brooklyn's offensive drive, was next with eight points. This mighty atom, who recently won the award for being the most valuable man in the American League, dug the ball up for the Donlonites and figured prominently in the passing attack.

Captain Carlile Huston and Frank Shimek made nine apiece for Kingston and Al Kellett seven. All of Kellett's points were made in the second period.

10-Point Drive

Trailing by the score of 21-34 with 10 minutes to play, the Visitations put on the power and their drive netted them 10 points. Conaty, McDermott and Berenson toed in heels in the order named. Berenson contributed two fouls and Johnson made a field in a field to end the scoring.

Two fields and a foul by Huston, a deuce by Shimek and a complimentary shot by Spahn gave Kingston its eight points in the opening period.

McDermott's four from scrimmage and a foul, Gross' two pointer and a foul by Conaty furnished the Visitations with their 12.

In the second period Kingston outscored Brooklyn, the locals making 15 to the visitors 11. At the end of the frame the tally stood 24-23 in favor of the Legionnaires.

Kellett was the big gun for the Morgenwecks in this frame, scoring three fields and a foul. Huston made two deuces, Shimek one and a foul and Spahn and Kurtyka made good on free ones.

McDermott made five of Brooklyn's points on two fields and a foul. Johnson made two fields and Bolleran one.

Hig Punkt For Brooklyn

The closing period saw the Visitations make 18 points while the home club made 10. Three sensational fields by McDermott, two by Johnson, one each by Conaty and Bolleran, and a field and two fouls by Berenson made up the Brooklyn score.

Five field goals, two each by Shimek and Spahn, and one by Kurtyka gave Kingston its 10 markers.

WILDE HEADS KING UNION SEEKING A $5 BOUT WAGE

London (P).—Jimmy Wilde, great British flyweight of a decade ago, is chairman and guiding spirit of the newly organized National Union of Boxers, whose initial object is to establish a minimum purse of $5 for fighters.

Over 400 boxers already have joined the union. Nobody knows quite what will happen when a union pugilist is called upon to meet an open-shopper in the ring.

Smaller British promoters have been in the habit of paying as low as $4 in purses for a rousing four-round preliminary.

Adversity Produces A Challenger

Braddock, Who Failed as Light-Heavy, Travels the Hard Route To Heavyweight Title Chance

Here's the "before-and-after" picture story on Jim Braddock, hero of a storybookistic comeback from the third flight of light-heavyweights to the No. 1 contender spot among the heavies.

By JOHN STAHR
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

1. The Right That Failed

What a spot for a Shakespeare-quoting heavyweight!

Shakespeare thought up the perfect theme song for James Jay Braddock, the Jersey Jolter who through an amazing sequence of happenstances finds himself definitely dated toight—Max Baer for the heavyweight title on June 13.

"Sweet are the uses of adversity," sang Avon's Bard, and if James Jay were the Tunney type he'd have that on his family crest by now—for probably no boxer in modern history owes as much to adversity as does Jimmy, admittedly and a bit proudly.

Not many have had such extensive acquaintance with it, either, as he.

The story of Braddock is, briefly: A smashing, "right-hand-crazy" light-heavyweight (and light for that division) through 1926-29...a neat licking by Champion Tommy Loughran in a title bid the latter year...fading interest in boxing while he started rearing his family...broken hands...hard labor on the docks, which he took to keep body and soul together but which gave him a sounder body than he'd ever been able to build through gymnasium work...a comeback as a "light" heavyweight...three wins, in trial horse races, in a year...political and financial complexities, a default—and here he is the challenger!

TODAY: ABOUT THE OLDTIMERS.

Having been asked many questions about my comeback fight against Frankie Konchina, former middleweight champion of the New York State National Guard, I have tried to answer most of them in the following article:

The Route Too Long.

Everything went well up to and including the seventh round. I had been hit only once, which was encouraging. Before I left my corner for the eighth round I noticed my legs had gone goose flesh, which was not a good sign. In that round I was forced to the canvas twice, but in the rest period between the eighth and ninth I was so well attended by Jimmy Simmonett, an old friend from New York, who is an expert second, and Eddie Noonan who ably assisted him, that I came out for the ninth rested and finished the bout without further difficulty.

Boxing Bouts at the Municipal Auditorium On Friday Night, 8:30

Another card of amateur boxing bouts for the benefit of the American Legion welfare fund will be held at the Municipal Auditorium Friday night and is expected to draw a large crowd.

There are five local boys on the bill, Adam Unverzagt, Joe Turck, Ralph North, Kid Taylor and Battling Lurie.

Taylor and Lurie are opponents and will start the show at 8:30 o'clock. With Lurie, the "Downtown Assassin," billed to start things off, indications are that there will be a jammed house for the opening bout.

In the feature Joe Haluska and Benny Ross, two heavy slugs, will belt away at each other.

Judging from the current output of automobiles, we're going to have a use for those new roads after all.

Crosetti-Lazzeri Keystone Pair Headed For Good Year

Crosetti whips ball to first to complete double play started by Lazzeri (right). The runner is Solters of Boston.

New York (P)—That pair of San Francisco Italians, elderly Tony Lazzeri and young Frank Crosetti, threatens to become one of baseball's keenest keystone combinations this season.

Just a year ago the New York Yanks thought they had unearthed a coming pair of second base collaborators in Don Heffner and Robert "Red" Rolfe, while a stoutish Lazzeri languished around third base and an uncertain Crosetti spent quite a few afternoons on the bench.

But the Rolfe-Heffner team didn't hold a big league pace, and soon Tony was back at second, Crosetti moved in at third. Toward the end of the season Frankie moved over to shortstop and Jack Saltzgaver held the hot corner assignment.

With the Yankees' "new deal" this spring, the Crosetti-Lazzeri duo started out handling the middle section of the infield, and got steadily faster and surer as spring drill went along.

Rolfe won the third base job and thus was rounded out with the perpetual Lou Gehrig at first, one of the classiest infelds the Yankees have known.

They started the regular season even more brilliantly than their southern play promised, executing one double play in the opener, two in the second game, three in the third.

The fifth and deciding game of the series to decide the championship of the North Rondout Social Club will be played Sunday night at Prospect Hall, Brooklyn, between the New York Jewels and Brooklyn Visitations. The Jewels won the first half and the Visitations the second.

Last Sunday night the Jewels nosed out the Visitations by the narrow margin of one point, in a contest that was easily one of the most spectacular ever played. Both teams exhibited high class basketball during the evening and forgot past animosities with the Jewels showing brilliantly all through the game and the Visitations doing likewise in the third period.

Kinebrunner of the Jewels, who has played heads up basketball all during the series, together with Slott, captured the point scoring honors in this contest, with McDermott of Brooklyn close behind, but the play making tactics of Poliskin of the Jewels in the closing minutes really determined the victory in favor of the Arcadia Hall contenders for this important title.

Visitations overcame a nine point deficit starting the third period and with but 13 minutes remaining had an apparently safe lead of five points only to have Kinebrunner drop in two beautiful shots and another by Slott, but even this remarkable comeback could have been offset had Bollermaan of Brooklyn scored his field goal from underneath the basket just before the whistle blew terminating the game.

Snow and Rain Cheer Plains People Today

Kansas City, April 25 (AP)—Snow in the mountains and rain on the day in sections parched by last summer brightened crop prospects to-morrow's drought.

Snow fell in the Rocky Mountains, closing highways with huge snow drifts. Rains, ranging from drizzles to downpours, were welcomed by farmers in Wyoming, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, and northern Texas.

The southwest dust bowl, however, had nothing more promising than a few clouds. Instead, mild dust storms continued to blow in southwest Kansas, southeast Colorado, and the Panhandle sections of Oklahoma and Texas.

Colorado districts dependent upon irrigation saw their supply of water increased by the heavy snows.

Described by observers as the heaviest one-day's fall in 16 years, the snow blocked highways with drifts nine feet deep at Victor and Cripple Creek, Colo. Schools were dismissed at noon.

Drifts up to five feet marooned many motorists along the Denver-COLORADO SPRINGS highway. At Colorado Springs, deputy sheriffs erected a barrier to keep others from venturing on the highway.

Government meteorologists estimated the precipitation in southeast Wyoming at one inch. Scottsbluff, Neb., reported an inch and a half, while at Fullerton, hundreds of acres of land were inundated after a torrential rain. Three inches of rain fell in an hour at Farwell, Neb.

Southern and central Kansas had rains ranging up to two inches. The drouth area in the extreme western end of the state received only sprinkles, but heavy clouds and mist brought relief from blowing dust. Showers fell in the Flint Hills grazing district of eastern Kansas.

BLOCK DEATHS AT UNSAFE CROSSINGS

Reduction of Road Hazards Is Most Pressing Need.

Washington—Extensive elimination of railway grade crossings as part of the public works program will meet pressing needs for reduction of highway hazards, facilitation of traffic and prompt provision of widespread employment, according to a statement issued by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

"There are at present approximately 237,000 rail-highway grade crossings in the United States, of which 4,700 are protected by gates, 6,200 by watchmen and 20,000 by signals. The remainder are protected only by fixed warning signs," the statement declared.

"During the past ten years accidents at rail-highway crossings have caused more than 20,000 deaths, nearly 60,000 injuries and extensive property damage. While for several recent years there were reductions, the record for 1934 shows a pronounced increase over 1933."

"Besides the losses due to accidents, there is a continuing cost to highway users from delays experienced at grade crossings, amounting in the aggregate to many millions of dollars annually."

"There is a sufficient number of crossings where established accident records justify elimination of the hazard, and for which plans are ready or could be completed promptly, to assure a large program of unemployment relief that can quickly be put into operation. In addition, an effective organization already exists in the bureau of public roads and the state highway departments to carry out such a program without delay."

Health Measures Wipe Out Smallpox in Mexico

Mexico City, Mex.—So successful has been the campaign of the federal health authorities in Mexico against the ravages of smallpox, a plague that cost the lives of 17,405 persons in that country in 1920, that it is well on the way toward being wiped out, according to a report recently given out in Mexico. D. F., by Dr. Miguel E. Bustamante, chief of the federal sanitary service in the states. It is stated that there are no fewer than 68 important cities and towns in the republic without a single case of smallpox, while in eight other cities there are only from one to three cases.

Doctor Bustamante explains that as fast as his agents clean up a neighborhood and vaccinate the population they move on into fresh territory, so that it is merely a matter of time when the whole country will be practically immunized. He estimates the deaths in the whole country from smallpox this year at much less than a quarter of the 1920 figure.

HUMAN nature is much the same—everywhere. If a driver likes his truck he takes good care of it... But if it is hard to ride... if it lacks power or speed... if the brakes won't hold and need frequent adjustments—if the clutch slips or the engine over-heats—look out, for there is a truck that's headed for the scrap heap.

Drivers bring about their Ford V-8's—they like the way the busky full-floating rear axle with torque-tube drive and radius rods—the rib-cooled brakes—the new centrifuge clutch and the comfort of the roomy insulated cab. Drivers take good care of their Ford V-8 trucks—they haul more tons more miles and earn owners more profits.

Regardless of your haulage needs you will find by investigation that Ford V-8 trucks will do a better job at less cost per ton mile.
